The European Feed & Food Ingredients Safety Certification

EFISC-GTP is a Brussels-based association owning an internationally recognised feed & food safety management certification system. We are looking for a

Technical and Scientific Adviser

as of January 2023, in a part-time consultant position to support or lead the below activities and operations.

Main accountabilities

- Maintain the EFISC-GTP database of EFISC-GTP certified companies
- Manage incidents/crisis due to the marketing by EFISC-GTP certified companies of contaminated feed/food batches: this activity includes receiving information on the incident from the company that notified the incident and managing communications with the mutually recognized certification schemes
- Organise training events for certified companies, consultants, and certification bodies (CBs)
- Manage the EFISC-GTP integrity programme (review audit reports and evaluation of the certification body performance)
- Review the EFISC-GTP Code to good practice for the collection, transport, storage, trading and industrial manufacture of safe feed/food ingredients

Profile of the candidate

- Degree in food manufacturing/technology or equivalent
- Expertise in EU feed/food legislation, in particular feed or food safety and in ISO related standards
- Experience in the EU feed/food sector and with feed/food safety management certification schemes
- Good communication and writing skills - English as working language
- Ability to take initiative, to work independently and in a team.
